The Project

The City of Imperial Beach completed a sea level rise (SLR) vulnerability assessment and adaptation strategies study in 2016 funded by grants from the State Coastal Conservancy and the San Diego Foundation. The City was awarded another grant from the Coastal Commission to update the City's General Plan/Local Coastal Program (LCP) that would translate the results of the SLR study into city policies to address the impacts of future climate change. The City hired AECOM to assist with this LCP Update project and develop a Climate Action Plan (CAP).

The previous January 11, 2018 Community Workshop focused on proposed changes to the Land Use Plan (LUP) of the LCP. The focus on the upcoming workshop will be on the development of the Implementation Plan (IP) of the City's LCP. Continue to share with us your thoughts on the SLR adaptation strategies and greenhouse gas (GHG) reduction measures that you believe the City should pursue.

Documents related to the LCP Update are available on the City's webpage:
